Dr Paul Jackson, BAMA

Paul Sullivan, DH Industries Ltd

Join us for this thought-provoking seminar as local and international industry participants and experts explore the challenges and - more importantly - the solutions and opportunities they present for the aerosol package and industry!

We are especially pleased to welcome several overseas presenters for this year's event including:

- Dr Paul Jackson, Regulatory Affairs Director, British Aerosol Manufacturers' Association;
- Paul Sullivan, Managing Director, DH Industries Ltd (UK); along with
- Kaoru ('Kenny') Monden and Akira Takahashi from Mitani Valve (Japan).

..... and joining us via video... Jean Blottière, Délégué Général of the Comité Français des Aérosols (CFA).

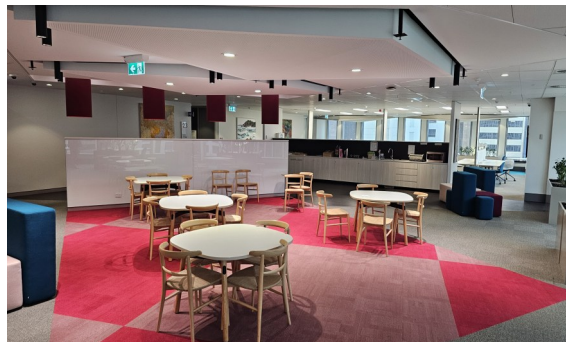

Make sure you don't miss this unique opportunity as we address questions like:

- What does 'packaging circularity' and 'Design for Recycling' mean for the aerosol package? How are bodies like APCO and UNSW working to help address these issues?
- I've heard that some aerosol propellants are being phased down or banned around the world - what will replace them? Are compressed gases the answer?
- 'Refillable' aerosols are on sale in some European supermarkets - should we be scared (or prepared)?

Course venue

The course will be held in Room 2305 (enter via level 24), Macquarie University City Campus, 'Angel Place' building, 123 Pitt St (corner of Angel Place and Pitt St), Sydney, NSW 2000. Registration and all breaks will be provided in the networking space outside this room (pictured below right).

Close to the Martin Place metro station and Wynyard train station, our venue for 2025 offers state-of-the-art presentation technology and networking facilities.
